Stronger, longer, fuller lashes from Germaine de Capuccini, in a pack developed by Quadpack

Pregnancy, stress, medical treatments or simply genetics. There are many reasons why eyelashes become sparse. Germaine de Capuccini's Full Lashes is designed to make lashes thicker, longer and 100% stronger.

Contained in a Brivaplast brush pack developed by Quadpack Group, this densifying booster works on both eyelashes and eyebrows. It works directly from the root, stimulating the production, working to both boost the length and also to increase the strength and thickness of eyelashes and eyebrows.

Its formula contains matrikine lash and provitamin B5 to stimulate growth, optimise anchorage and repair damaged hair. The brush makes application both easy and precise.

The 8ml bottle and cap are colour-matched white, with black and green branding screenprinted onto the bottle.
