Quadpack expands range with new acrylic jar

OTC/cosmeceutical brands looking for a more cosmetic look for their face creams may find the answer in Quadpack's new 50ml Acrylic Jar. The latest member of the Q-Line range, it offers minimalistic elegance, an attractive price/performance ratio and excellent product compatibility.

Furthermore, the 50ml jar is complemented by a 5ml mini size, allowing for travel packs or sample packs to warm up product launches.

All interior components of Acrylic Jar – the inner jar, shive and inner cap – are made of polypropylene (PP) and can be used without concern for compatibility issues. This makes it a particularly appealing proposition for cosmeceutical formulas, although the jar is suitable for any masstige product.

Its simple, straight lines and dual wall structure offer limitless creative possibilities. Colour-matching, screen-printing, frosting and a host of other decoration techniques can be applied to achieve the desired look and feel. The ABS cap can also be metallised.

The industrial process of the Acrylic Jar is geared up for high productivity, with an annual capacity of over one million units. Combined with easy filling, this makes this product ideal for large production runs of masstige products that require a more premium look.

Check out the spec's for both the Acrylic Jars in the online catalogue.
