Foaming cleanser helps improve acne-prone skin

Leading Australian cosmeceutical brand Ultraceuticals promises real skin care for real results. Its latest facial cleanser tackles the precursors of acne with a potent antioxidant, vitamin and BHA-based formula. The product is applied as a rich foam that actively penetrates deep into the pores, thanks to a high-performance foamer from Apollo developed by Quadpack.

Ultra Clear Foaming Cleanser comes in a 150ml bottle with a foam pump that uses Apollo's patented foam pump technology. Apollo foamers keep metal parts separate from the product path to protect product formulation integrity – a real concern for advanced OTC formulas. In addition, its fine mesh ensures a luxurious, even texture for an outstanding rich foam quality.

Quadpack decorated the pack with green and black graphics against a pure white background, in accordance with Ultraceuticals branding, for a clean, medical look that transmits its clinical efficacy.
