Slimline Jumbo for Natio foundations

Natio, the Australian beauty company who are experts in natural skin care and colour products, have launched two new foundations in Yonwoo's best-selling Jumbo airless dispensers from Quadpack.

Natio's Invisible Blend Foundation provides a medium, weightless 'second skin' coverage that mimics the look and feel of your own skin. Natio's full coverage Flawless Foundation has the added advantage of SPF15 sun protection and its hydrating, velvety texture hides blemishes and imperfections.

Natio has launched both these products in the Slimline Jumbo – a major upgrade to their foundation range that affords its customers a better user experience. This pump-action container from Yonwoo is renowned for its compatibility with advanced products, as its airless technology keeps the formula inside free of contamination.

In both cases, Natio has kept Jumbo's shell clear – facilitating colour choice – while rendering the container with a silk-screen print and shiny hot foil stamp on the rim.
