Quadpack hosts inaugural Asia Supplier Conference

Quadpack held its Asia Supplier Conference on 8 May 2018 in Kowloon, Hong Kong, in recognition of the strategic importance of its Asian business partnerships. Held at the stylish Hotel ICON, over 30 key suppliers attended the event, as did Quadpack's Asia Pacific team.

Hosted by Quadpack Director of Sourcing & Supply Raj Savji, CEO Tim Eaves shared the company's business strategy, while Chief Operating Officer John McDermott focused on social accountability, quality and the importance of operational excellence.

In celebration of exemplary supplier performance, the Quadpack Asia Supplier Awards recognised Best Product Innovation, Best Operational Excellence, Best Supply Partnership and Supplier of the Year. A networking lunch was held for all attendees after the ceremony.

"The conference was an excellent forum for us to consolidate our supplier relationships and communicate the key strategic priorities for partnership," said Savji. "Our Asia supply chain remains of crucial importance to our business and the brands that we support. The conference allowed us to strengthen our ties, align our objectives and extend our appreciation to our key supply partners. I'm happy to say that the success of the inaugural event means we are making it a fixture in the Quadpack calendar. We are now planning a European conference for later in the year to continue the key communication with our European supply partners."
