Beauty in every drop

The Charismo Dropper by Quadpack is the perfect solution for controlled application

Controlled application and efficiency in a recyclable bottle. The Charismo Dropper by international beauty packaging manufacturer and provider Quadpack is an optimal packaging solution for formulas that require precise dosage, with reduced risk of skin contact and contamination.

Available in 10 and 30ml, the Charismo Dropper's bottles are made of glass, an endlessly recyclable material, and can be easily separated from the teat thanks to its thread opening system. Both droppers are perfect for low-viscosity formulas such as serums, oils, essences and water-like products. The 10ml version is ideal for both eye and lip care, as well as for sample and travel sizes. The 30ml is a classic pack for standard-sized skincare and makeup products.

The Charismo Droppers are part of the QLine Charismo range, which is also available in fragrance bottles of 50 and 100ml, making them a good addition for brands that want to diversify or grow their product family. The square format gives a modern and professional touch to the pack and its smooth surface allows many decoration possibilities.
