Quadpack's refillable evolution for solid formulas

Monomaterial, recyclable and versatile, the Infinite PP Panstick is the new generation of Quadpack's panstick in a sustainable format

International beauty packaging manufacturer and provider Quadpack's new Infinite PP Panstick is a sustainable evolution of its original plastic panstick. Launched in October 2022, it is fully made in PP, a recyclable material, and now available in refillable format. Versatile, the product is a new generation of Quadpack's proprietary packaging that answers to eco-driven brands' needs in sustainable materials for makeup, fragrance and skincare.

Thanks to its eco-conception, Infinite PP Panstick has reduced its carbon emissions in 43% when compared to the original version, and its circularity index has tripled*, indicating an improvement in sustainability and reduced environmental impact, according to a Lifecycle Assessment of the product. The evolution to a monomaterial and refillable pack made the product move up from Minimal to Advanced Level of Sustainability on Quadpack's PIP (Positive Impact Packaging) rating.

The pack answers to the solidification trend, where brands, motivated by environmental reasons, opt for reducing or eliminating water from their formulas, adopting sticks as alternative formats and encouraging different gestures and applications.

Besides sustainable, the product is versatile: it can be used for various formulas in solid formats, such as foundations, highlighters, sunscreen, serums and solid fragrances. Thanks to a practical snap-on system, the Infinite PP Panstick can be easily refilled, with top and bottom refilling possibilities.

The product is available in cup size 18.2mm (10g and 4.5g) and 21.3 mm (15g), with several in-house decoration options available.
